The Magical Alchemy of the Elementals!

How we co-create with the Earth Realms to manifest a new Reality

Everything in Creation arises from the great mystery of the Void, the realms of the Goddess' womb. Every life force of the Goddess moves through us, vitalizes us and maintains us in this incarnation. If we open more to Her, she is able to send new vibrational patterns through us at this time, so that new creations may be birthed through our hearts.

The vibrational imprints we receive from the Goddess need to be energized by the Divine Masculine energies of our Soul so as to be effective in birthing new creations, and to ensure that these new creations are in alignment with the Divine Plan for Mother Earth and Humanity.

These energized vibrational patterns of new creations can then be sent through our hearts into our bodies (to create a new reality within) and then into the world, so that a new reality manifests in our everyday life.

This process of manifestation, or 'precipitation' as it is sometimes called, depends totally on the Elemental Kingdom in order to be successful.

Everything in Creation is composed of a combination of elementals. There are five elementals: Earth, Air, Fire, Water and Ether (or Love, or Life Force as it is sometimes called). All of these elements are living beings, having consciousness and awareness, as well as being filled with the living life force of the Creator and Creatrix.

Our past culture as Christians tell us that God gave us dominion over these nature realms. This means that the elementals have one sole purpose on the Earth planes: to create exactly what emanates from our hearts as energized vibrational patterns.

For those who are not living consciously with an awareness of this, they are simply emanating the patterns they have been told to, or that seem to be in the communal agreement of humanity at any given time. Our parents, ancestors, the church, the state, society and friends contribute to our vision of the world, and that is what we create. However, if we put all these thought patterns and belief systems aside and focus on our souls emanating through us from an unbiased perspective, we begin to be amazed at the reality that then emerges.

The more we focus on radiating our soul energy into ourselves and our world, the more old thought patterns and belief systems are transformed.

This is truly the purpose that we have as a collective group on Earth at this time. All of our known systems such as government, education, trade, society, finances, medical care etc are based on the old paradigm of limitation, lack, disempowerment and restriction. Those systems are failing us now because the time has come for new systems to be birthed.

The acceleration of development at this time, especially in the realms of awareness, all tend towards a more holistic, conscious and unified way of Life. We can only birth this new reality through the energised vibrational patterns of our heart and the assistance of the Elemental Kingdom.
